

OnPlayerTarget

This event is triggered when a player targets an element with his crosshair while aiming, or simply facing it while standing close. It's triggered again when the player no longer targets anything.

Parameters

element targettedElement

- targettedElement: the element the player is targetting. false if no element is being targetted anymore.

Source

The source of this event is the player that is targetting the element.