

RemoveCommandHandler

This function removes a command handler, that is one that has been added using `addCommandHandler`. This function can only remove command handlers that were added by the resource that it is called in.

Syntax

```
bool removeCommandHandler ( string commandName [, function handler] )
```

Required Arguments

- commandName: the name of the command you wish to remove.

Optional Arguments

- handler: the specific handler function to remove. If not specified, all handler functions for the command (from the calling resource) will be removed. This argument is only available in the server.

Returns

Returns true if the command handler was removed successfully, false if the command doesn't exist.